Other skills and experience: _____

I have always kept important values such as working as a team, striving for excellence, and and maintaining a healthy life style when I choose how I want to operate. I have my family and the people I grew up with to thank for that and I will be forever grateful. That being said, one of the most important activities that tested my stamina in maintaining those values was my involvement in drumline. Through my involvement, as both a leader and a follower, in programs such as the Redline, Gateway, Legacy, and Colts Drum & Bugle Drumlines I have been granted opportunities such as performing alongside celebrities such as Madonna and CeeLo Green in the 2012 Super Bowl XLVI Half-time Show and touring around the country competing in Drum and Bugle Corps. Getting these opportunities and achieving the success I have did not come easy though, it took countless hours of hard work to get to where I am. These skills I have learned in these experiences will never fade and I believe incorporating them into everyday life and the workplace can lead to nothing but success.
